

LISA MARIA STOFSKY

I am a 24 year old fashion design student, who was born and raised on the island of Als, southern of Denmark. Living really close to the German border and having a family who loved travelling, made me an endlessly curious person who reflects, analyzes and loves diversity of communication and cultures.

My design often takes root in the Danish traditional heritage with a weakness for art, subcultures and the Zeitgeist that follows with it and the world today. Emotion and attitude is everything to me, and always stays to be the summarizing focal point.
