PROFILE

My international experience, global network and proven readiness for change make me a team worker with great organisational and analytical skills. I am good at interacting with people at all levels and exercise excellent communication skills both oral and written. Independently, I work structured and have a good intuition. Three essential words to describe me are: Creative, enthusiastic and result-orientated. Professionally I thrive in a dynamic environment where managing new challenges are needed and where there is room for development.
